Greetings!

Interested in learning more about health insurance benefit mandates in California, and about a key contributor to the Legislature's review of health benefit mandate related legislation? In the coming year, will you or your office:

- Propose a health insurance benefit-related bill?
- Sponsor or take a position on one?
- Be assigned to one?
- Vote on one?

Great! Legislators, staff, advocates, and the public are warmly invited to the California Health Benefits Review Program (CHBRP)'s annual legislative briefing.

CHBRP, housed at the University of California, provides independent, unbiased, and evidence-based analysis for the Legislature on health insurance-related topics, upon the request of the Assembly or Senate. The briefing will provide information about CHBRP, how we do our work and our analyses. We will also discuss health insurance in California and how CHBRP is working to be ready to adjust its analyses to address potential changes to the Affordable Care Act.

Whether you are new to health insurance topics or an expert, we welcome your attendance and questions. For information on this event, please see the event page. Please click on the link below to RSVP. We hope to see you there!
